

GETTING IT RIGHT WITH THEIR ALMA MATERS

INTEGRITY COMMISSIONERS VISIT CARONI SCHOOLS

Integrity Commissioners Seunarine Jokhoo and Dr. Shelly-Anne Lalchan visited their alma mater on Wednesday, October 23, 2013 where they encouraged students to enter the Commission's 'Do Right Champions' competition.

Students of the Primary Schools were urged to submit a Short Story while Secondary School students were encouraged to write a Monologue on the theme of Integrity. All entries must reach the District Education Office before NOVEMBER 8TH 2013.

Dr. Lalchan visited Freeport Hindu and Holy Faith Convent in Couva where she met some of her former Primary and Secondary School teachers. Mr. Jokhoo visited Presentation College Chaguanas, where he shared information on the history of his alma mater and the Commissions' thrust at enforcing a culture of Integrity.

The Integrity Commissioners were part of a Caravan that visited schools in the Caroni Education District as the Commission stepped up efforts to have all Primary and Secondary Schools participate in the "2013 Do Right Champions" competition.

The "Do Right Champions" competition provides students in each Education District an equal opportunity to win iPad Minis and First Citizen nEo accounts. Details on the competition are available from the District Education Office and from the Integrity Commission of Trinidad and Tobago.
